

contrast-or-topic

The diagram illustrates the focus of the sentence "Kim tries to read the BOOK." It features two callout boxes. The first box, labeled "contrast-or-topic", has two arrows pointing to "Kim" and "tries". The second box, labeled "semantic-focus", has two arrows pointing to "read" and "BOOK".

Kim tries to read the BOOK.

semantic-focus